STAMPED ON A SHOE
MEANS STANDARD OF MERIT
6TH AVE. AT 20TH ST.

About "P. M.'s"

In every store some styles of shoes are left over at the end of each season—odds and ends—models that did not sell as well as expected, etc.

The great majority of shoe stores operate a Premium System, and award cash prizes to sales people as an incentive for them to sell this undesirable merchandise to you.

"Cammeyer" does not operate such a system and offers no premiums of any kind for selling any particular shoe.

Our accumulations are sold at wholesale in far-away cities.

In this way we keep our million dollar stock of shoes always fresh and clean, with no old styles to foist upon our customers.

We certainly will not repay the confidence you place in "Cammeyer" by bribing our clerks to sell you undesirable merchandise.

The shoes you want are here at prices you like to pay.

Women Who Pay $5.50 to $6.50 for Shoes—

—will be glad to know that the Cammeyer stocks of Fall Shoes at $5.50 and $6.50 are now at their highest point.

We have specialized on shoes at these prices and the result is most interesting.

Women who shop around and compare values tell us that Cammeyer models at $5.50 and $6.50 stand alone for style and value.

WEAVERSON LOVED 'IN STREAKS' AFTER HE MET MRS. FRAME

Wife Tells of Influence Christian Science Teacher Had on Husband.

Mrs. Brownie Weaverson, once leader of the women of the Madison cult of sun worshippers, to-day told a jury before Supreme Court Justice Finch of the mysterious influence exercised over her husband by Mrs. Caroline W. Frame, rich Christian Science teacher. Mrs. Weaverson's $250,000 alienation suit against Mrs. Frame is up for trial the second time. The first jury disagreed.

After a conversation with Mrs. Frame, the wife testified, she learned Mrs. Frame believed there never could be any harmony between Weaverson and his wife. Weaverson came home late, was indifferent and complained about his food, Mrs. Weaverson declared.

"Finally he told me he was going to leave New York because there was no harmony between us," said Mrs. Weaverson. "He was simply echoing the words of Mrs. Frame. I knelt beside my husband and told him I felt as if I was going to be failed. 'I didn't sleep at all that night and next morning I left a note asking him not to disturb me and that I wanted time to collect myself. However, he came to my room and knelt beside my bed.'"

"Brownie, dear," he said, 'I love you from the depths of my heart. I've always loved you and you know I love you now.' I told him it was all right—that I loved him as he loved me."

"Things were lovely for a few days after that, but then he got another streak and our household was unhappy for a long time. Then again he was changed to the loving husband he had been and told me he didn't really appreciate me until he was in the presence of Mrs. Frame. He insisted, though, that Mrs. Frame's attitude toward him was that of a mother beaming upon her grown-up son."

2 AERO SQUADRONS ORDERED TO BE PUT INTO COMMISSION

Twenty-four Aeroplanes, With Motor Trucks, &c., and 3,391 Men to Go Into Service.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Authorization was given to-day by Lieut. Col. Squier, Chief of the aviation section of the Army Signal Corps for the complete equipment of two additional aero squadrons for the regular army. When the material, costing about $800,000 for each squadron, has been delivered at San Antonio, Tex., the regular army flying service will have been tripled.

Orders for the enlistment of 3,391 men for the new squadrons have gone out and selection of officers is being considered.

The squadrons will be organized by Major Benjamin D. Foulois, Commander of the First Aero Squadron.

who has been detached to visit aero manufacturing plants.

Each squadron will have twelve aeroplanes of types required by regulations just compiled. It will have in addition twenty-five motor trucks, one seven-passenger automobile, seven motorcycles, ten spare motors, materials for the construction and repair of twelve hangars, an equipment of tools, spare parts and repair material, estimated to be sufficient for six months maintenance, complete outfit for photographic observation, full medical supplies, twelve Lewis machine guns and the rifles, pistols and shot-guns included in the equipment of an army aeroplane with necessary ammunition.

The aviation service has ordered more than 200 aeroplanes of various types within the last two weeks and a board of officers is now examining hills. Officers are concerned over the fact that the industry appears to be swamped by army requirements. The quickest delivery that can be obtained apparently is sixty days for the first machines.

Officers are making a study of available sites for aviation schools.

Fell From "L" Platform.
Impatient this morning because a Broadway elevated train was slow in arriving at the Flushing Avenue Station, Jacob Goldstein, a tailor, of No. 431 Alabama Avenue, East New York, leaned out so far he fell to the tracks. He was taken home by Dr. Bussio of St. Catherine's Hospital with a fractured right knee cap, scalp wounds and contusions.

The May Manton Fashions

THIS is a pattern that you can use for the gymnasium costume and for the school frock, and it will serve both purposes well. It is really a simple little dress with a yoke and with separate bloomers. If it is made as it is on the figure it is a dress that can be worn in the gymnasium or in the schoolroom. If it is made with a square neck and without the sleeves or with short sleeves, it will be, perhaps, a little better adapted to the hour of exercise. Either a belt or a girdle can be used to confine the fullness. It is a very simple little frock to make, for the box plaited portion is joined to the yoke and the fullness is held by means of the belt. It is closed at the left of the front so that it is easy to adjust, and one side laps over the other. In the picture it is made of a plaid serge trimmed with plain, and serge is a good material both for the schoolroom and for the gymnasium suit, but, perhaps, for the latter plain blue will be preferred. For the school frock the washable materials are good as well as serge. Guiniam, especially desirable for this design, for they all are well suited to the trimmer wear beneath school frocks; they are warmer than petticoats, more serviceable and more desirable in every way. A great many girls wear them to match the dress, whatever the material may be. For the 10 year size, will be 36 inches of material 27 inches wide, 4 yards 36, 3½ yards 44, 3½ yards 44, with ¼ of a yard 44 inches wide for the trimmer; 2½ yards 27, 1½ yards 36, 44 or 44 for the bloomers.

The May Manton pattern No. 2238 is cut in sizes from 8 to 14 years. No. 9238—(With busting line and added seam allowance). Girls' Gymnasium Costume, 8 to 14 years.
